BOYCE TAYLOR IN LIMELIGHT AGAIN

Baptist Preacher, Accused of Disloyalty, Violates Board of Health Influenza Closing Order.

The "famous" Rev. Boyce Taylor, of Murray, whom the Baptists of Kentucky practically repudiated for his alleged disloyal utterances, has again broken into the limelight down in Calloway county. Every man and woman who attended services at the Murray Baptist church Sunday will be arrested following the forcible removal from his pulpit of Boyce Taylor, pastor, who was conducting services in violation of the influenza quarantine order of the State Board of Health, and the threat of Sheriff Dee Houston to issue warrants for all those in the congregation. Mr. Taylor is the minister who was twice voted out of his pulpit during the war because of utterances in his weekly paper against the war and the draft. He recently was replaced as moderator of the Kentucky Association of Baptists.

"The orders of the State Board of Health are not God's commands and should not be obeyed," wrote Taylor in his weekly paper recently. Sunday morning services were stopped while Chief of Police P. F. Waterfield, read to the Sunday School and church body a restraining order secured by the State Board of Health but they were resumed when he had concluded. That night Sheriff Houston in the midst of services, took Mr. Taylor by the arm, led him out of church, and before County Judge E. P. Phillips, who, however, refused to accept him as a prisoner. Mr. Taylor returned to his church, but the sheriff stood in the door and barred the way.

Dr. P. A. Hart, health officer of Calloway county, announced today that 151 warrants will be issued immediately, and that every one of the warrants will be served.

Replying to a charge of "persecution" made by Dr. Wiley Graves, a member of the church and one of the staunchest friends of the pastor, Dr. Hart said he deeply regrets the occurrence, but that it is his duty as health officer to enforce the order of the State Board of Health and the court injunction, which were issued at the request of the health board.

Members of the church now declare they are glad the turmoil is to be brought up in court so that it may be fought to a finish.

The Rev. Taylor appeared before County Judge Phillips and his examining trial was set for Wednesday. The minister was released upon his own recognizance.

Burns Prove Fatal To Little Girl At Panola

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN

Joseph B. Eastman of Massachusetts has been chosen by President Wilson to succeed G. W. Anderson as member of the interstate commerce commission. Mr. Eastman has been a member of the Massachusetts public service commission.

Negro Had 14 Quarts of Booze Hidden In House

All Curt Moore, a local negro, needed to conduct a first class barroom at his home on Collins street, was a bar and a white apron, for Chief of Police Devore discovered 14 quarts of Old Tarr whisky on the premises when he made a search of them Saturday. Eight quarts were in a trunk and six more hidden in a barrel under some clothes. Judge Murray Smith before whom Moore was tried in police court, held him to the grand jury under two charges of selling in local option territory and one of having liquor in his possession for purposes of sale. His bond was fixed at $100 in each case, which he failed to give and went to jail.

Moore was "turned up" by a negro named John Noland, who testified that he had bought a pint from Moore for a white man for which he paid $2.50 and a quart for which he paid $2.50 told the officers where he got it and the chief went to the house. Minnie Bly, who lives there with Moore, declared there wasn't a drop on the place, but the wily chief doesn't fall for that sort of talk when he's on a good scent and he soon had the woman "digging up" the booze of which there was a sufficient quantity to stock up a young barroom. The whisky will be kept safe until Moore's case is finally disposed of and then will probably be donated to the Pattie A. Infirmary.

Flu Decreasing Rapidly

Flu conditions are improving fast in Richmond. Assistant Health Officer Dave Powers reports that there were only 14 new cases last week, a substantial decrease over the week before. Local physicians and health officers have worked hard, and the people have co-operated splendidly, to which is due much of the success that has been obtained so far.

Mr. Alex Turnip who was on overseas duty with the 38th division, who went from Camp Shelby, has been mustered out of the service and is extended in their loss.

"A SPLENDID TONIC"

Says Hixson Lady Who, On Doctor's Advice, Took Cardui And Is Now Well.

Hixson, Tenn.—"About 10 years ago I was..." says Mrs. J. B. Gadd, of this place. "I suffered with a pain in my left side, could not sleep at night with this pain, always in the left side..."

My doctor told me to use Cardui. I took one bottle, which helped me and after my baby came, I was stronger and better, but the pain was still there.

I at first let it go, but began to get weak and in a run-down condition, so I decided to try some more Cardui, which I did.

This last Cardui which I took made me much better, in fact, cured me. It has been a number of years, still I have no return of this trouble.

I feel it was Cardui that cured me, and I recommend it as a splendid female tonic."

Don't allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. It should surely help you, as it has so many thousands of other women in the past 40 years. Headache, backache, sidesache, nervousness, sleeplessness, tired-out feeling, are all signs of womanly trouble. Other women get relief by taking Cardui. Why not you? All druggists

No man who ever held the office made a better record in it than Nat B. Sewell who has just retired as State Inspector and Examiner to become a member of the Workmen's Compensation Board. During his three years' incumbency, Mr. Sewell collected $82,361.16; his department expended $39,843.84 and a net sum of $42,517.35 was turned into the State Treasury. Every county in the state was inspected during the first two years of Mr. Sewell's administration.

Another Letter From Lieutenant Gray

A letter that might be of interest to his many friends, was received by Miss Aurelia Powell, of Richmond. He writes as follows:

Coblenz, Germany, Dec. 23.

Miss Aurelia Powell:

Dear friends—As I am settled down to business once more with my old regiment, will write and let you know how I am getting along soldiering in Germany since being a prisoner of war there so long. Believe me, it sure is some change, and for the better, it is just opposite to what it was then. You know I used to go around with a German soldier in the rear of me with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet but now I am walking the streets of a German city with an automatic on my side and telling the boche what to do.

One can very easily see they don't like it a little bit but they are only getting back some of their own medicine which they issued out some time ago, and a very bitter dose for them to swallow. Just think, this is my birthday and I am 26, quite a young man yet, don't you think so, and I feel as though I were only sweet sixteen, and as to celebrating my birthday, I am on guard (officer of the day).

The old friends of mine that haven't been killed since I was captured sure were glad to see me come back to the regiment. I thought they would shake my hands off and talk me to death. I had to tell everyone of my life's history while I was a prisoner of war.

I sure had a swell time when I was on leave. I travelled ten days and stayed two days in no one place, with the exception of Paris. Here are some of the places I visited: Paris, Tours, Chateau Thierry, (my old historic battle field), Nancy, St. Quentin, Verdun, Metz, Treves, and several other smaller places.

Since I have been in the army I have travelled over 20,000 miles; have been in Mexico, France, Belgium, Luxembourg, Germany, Switzerland, and in 23 states in America; seen thousands of grand cities and other places, but I have never run up against the place that seems as good to me as little old Richmond, Ky., and some of these days I am coming back there and get some of my old friends together and have a regular old grand reunion.

I suppose that Gip is back home with you all by this time and all will have a fine Xmas together. We are expecting a very good Xmas in Germany and I hope by the next one I will be back in Richmond. Well, I will close for this time. Answer soon, with a long letter. Your friend.

PICTURE SHOWS KAISER'S ARROGANCE TO AMERICA

Although without doubt Germany knows America through its policy of intrigue and spying it knows little of Americans as is proven by the entire mistaken policy of Germany with a nation that strove to keep its neutrality until its patience was entirely exhausted.

When you see in the feature photoplay production of Ambassador Gerards' "My Four Years in Germany," the representative of kultur in the person of the Kaiser as he shook his finger under the nose of our Ambassador with the expressed warning that "he would stand no nonsense from America after the war," you will better understand the reasons for America's present position in the world conflict.

"My Four Years in Germany" is a big dramatic production that will give Americans a better understanding of the most important page in world history. It will be shown in Richmond on Thursday.

400 LOCOMOTIVES SENT TO FRANCE

Dispatched Intact, Ready for Steam, by the Army Transport Service.

1,200 SHIPPED IN SECTIONS

Record of 12 Days Made From Shops in This Country to Lines at the Front—Great Work Is Now Revealed.

Washington.—Shipment of American-built steam locomotives, each weighing 73 tons, and assembled all except the smokestack and the tender, so that they could move away under their own steam within a few hours after their arrival in France, was among the accomplishments of the United States army transport force under stress of war, and has since been continued.

More than 400 of these locomotives were so shipped from New York in a few months, it was learned here with the lifting of the war censorship regulations, and these were in addition to 1,200 which were shipped in sections, nine to a locomotive, packed in cases. The ships used to transport the locomotives complete were of a special type with three holds, each hold measuring 60 by 102 feet, entered by hatches 39 feet wide and 42 feet long.

Into each of the three holds were placed 12 locomotives—9 to a ship.

A bed or flooring on which they rested for the voyage required more than 3,000 tons of steel rails.

The locomotives when in position were braced with heavy wooden beams and the space between the boilers to the level of the top of the steam dome packed solid with highly compressed baled hay.

Compressed Hay Under Flooring.

On this hay another flooring was laid, and on this floor was placed the tenders—the smokestacks, with more baled hay or other light cargo, packed in the space where coal is to be carried.

On top of the tenders was packed still more cargo to the deck level, and during the "rush days" the above-deck space filled with crated airplanes. When completely loaded with the 36 locomotives and other cargo each vessel was carrying a dead weight of 14,000 tons in addition to ship machinery, bunker coal and crew supplies.

The loading of the locomotives is an interesting sight. Steel railroad barges carrying 14 of the steel monsters are made fast alongside a 100-ton capacity floating derrick barge, in turn made fast to the ship. An ordinary sling of steel wire is placed around the forward end of the boilers, another under the supports to the cab, the signal given and the locomotive lifted 40 or 50 feet in the air, swung over and gently loaded into the ship's hold. The whole operation required but 20 minutes, and it was accomplished with the same ease and the same lack of excitement as prevailed on board a steamship at an adjoining dock which was taking on board 500-pound bales of cotton.

The idea of shipping locomotives complete was conceived when army transport officers were informed that England was shipping them across the channel ready to move away on arrival.

"America Can Do It."

"If England can do it, so can America," an officer said, and he straightway commanded a fleet of ore-carrying vessels which were constructed with hatches large enough to permit the handling of such freight.

When the movement was at its height the following time was recorded for the movement of a locomotive from its builders to its base of action behind the battle lines: Shipped to New Jersey terminals, 24 hours; from rail to barge, 6 hours; from terminals to ship side, 6 hours; barge to ship, 20 minutes; New York to France, 9 days; ship to army rail lines and hooked up to a transport train bound for the front, 6 hours; a total of less than 12 days.

Handling of 73-ton locomotives as if they were but one-tenth of their weight is only a small part of the tremendous work that has been under way at army transport piers since the United States transport service attained full swing.

Major Dan O'Brien, marine director, an officer who has won his rank by more than 20 years' service in every port of the United States, Cuba, Mexico and the Philippines, where transport facilities of the army were centered, is the man who handled the locomotives.

Thieves Return Loot.

Iowa City, Ia.—When Mrs. Wolfe of this city went down town recently she left her door unlocked. Robbers broke in and stole a sapphire ring, a watch, a necklace and a purse containing $75.

Next day the thieves returned the stolen property, leaving it on her front step.

Call "Spade a Spade."

Youngstown, O.—The Mahoning county War Savings stamp committee comes out in plain language and calls a "spade a spade" in talking of those who fail to meet their stamp pledges.

"They are refusing to feed the army of occupation in Europe," the committee says.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 30th

"It will make you a better American after you see Garrard's 'My Four Years in Germany,' the story will live as long as America is a Republic."

To learn why the Allies were at war with Germany you must see this great film. Only one person out of a hundred really knows why the Allies went to war with the common foe. Garrard's "My Four Years in Germany" will explain everything.

James W. Garrard said:

"Because I want to bring to our people the gravity of the situation. 'My Four Years in Germany' has become a striking historical document, a plain record that none can misunderstand, of the madness of a people drunk with Autocracy. That's why I gave permission to have this story put in motion pictures."

Delightful Dinner.

Mr. Elmer Deatherage, manager of the Madison Tobacco Warehouse, entertained with a delightful dinner at six o'clock last evening in honor of the factory buyers and several of the warehouse owners. Six hands of the finest tobacco were used as a centerpiece to the attractively decorated table, and upon the insistence of the buyers, lead by W. S. Judy, of the R. J. Reynolds Company, it was sold after the dinner was over. Col. Jesse Cobb gave a perfect imitation of his best style on the breaks, and it brought the record price of $7.50 a pound, bought by Mr. Judy. Mr. Judy gave it back and it was resold several times, realizing a total of $35 for the Associated Charities.

The menu was bounteous and most attractively served in courses, consisting of salad, turkey, oysters, old ham, potato chips, peas in ramkins, co'n pone, the most delicious of hot rolls ices and cakes, and other delicacies; in fact, the table fairly groaned under its load of good things. Those who enjoyed the delightful evening were Judge E. C. Million, Col. Jesse Cobb, Messrs. T. J. Curtis, Warfield Bennett, Earl Curtis, W. S. Judy, E. W. Glass, W. P. Kincaid, Franklin Deatherage, Homer W. Carpenter, S. M. Saufley, Lee, Perry, Perkins and Rives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Hall have taken rooms with Mr. Stewart on Water street, Mr. Hall just being mustered out of service at Greenville, S. C.

Two Faithful Physicians Did Fine Work in "Flu Drive"

Brasfield, Jan. 28.

Over the top again and another victory scored with Dr. Coomer captain, and Dr. J. H. Hendren, lieutenant. In the recent flu drive (and we trust the last one), Dr. Coomer found himself confronted with 100 cases or more and a great many of them accompanied with pneumonia, but he stayed right on the job both day and night eating as he ran, and sleep not being considered at all, fought right on with the tenacity of a bulldog and never lost a patient.

Dr. J. H. Hendren, of Pineville, who had practiced medicine in this community in days of yore, had by his successful practice, energy, pep and affable disposition greatly endeared himself to this community. So realizing the situation he left a lucrative practice there (for the time being), and came to the rescue since which time they have spared no horse flesh, vehicle or gasoline in the meantime their territory had expanded from Dan to Beersheba i.e. Red River to Big Hill, including from 5 to 240 cases without the loss of one. All hats off to the pair of doctors.

FIRE AT PINE MOUNTAIN
Fire caused from a defective furnace, was discovered in the administrative building of the Pine Mountain settlement school, last Thursday morning at 2:30 o'clock, in which this building with two others was entirely destroyed. Three boy students, 17 years of age, lost their lives. Also Edith Cox, of New York, a young lady who was employed in the office. Miss Duncan Foster, of this city, held a position in this school and had not returned after the holidays being a victim of influenza. Most of her clothing was destroyed, and a young student who was occupying her room was aroused just in time to leap from the window, and his life was saved by a fellow student. Miss Katherine Petit, of Lexington, is principal of the school, and many people in Richmond who have contributed to the school will be sorry to know of the loss, on which there was only a small insurance.

COLORED COLUMN
(J. W. Cobb)
The victory girls on team No. 4 have done splendid work and are able to pay off the money pledged by them. Those on the team were Misses Lucile Blythe, captain, Ella M. Dudley, Elmer Covington, Thelma Turner, Alice White, Elizabeth Presley, and Ester M. Warren.

An Honest Test of Butter Fat

A well known farmer of Union City stopped at my warehouse Saturday to get five more bags of "BUTTER FAT DAIRY FEED." We were talking about the price of butter fat and his test, he said "on the 10th of January his cream tested 55; and on Saturday tested 35 per cent butter fat." He claimed that for the past ten days he had been out of Butter Fat Dairy Feed, so he had lost money.
